

A preview of

Propagation, by Laura Elrick

(Kenning Editions, 2012). All rights reserved by the author and Kenningeditions.com

|| and people who knew her
said
that people who knew her
didn't know her
really really didn't know her
people said
I didn't know her people who knew her
didn't really know her they never knew her
people
never knew

|| to get out of this
bleak spot
the spot corresponding to the passage
from one
experiential state
its

implied augmentation
get out of it
the bleak
spot corresponding to the spot
by corresponding you
get out of it
implied state's experiential
passage

passage
from one is implied
it's augmentation
its augmentation
the passage gets

bigger gets out of this get out
of this bleak
spot bleak spot
from it

it's experiential get out get out
gets you out of corresponding to the passage from one
not opposite

and slides it away